SKILL EXPLANATIONS

Performance bands divide candidates into the bottom third, middle third, and top third of participants in this assessment cohort for each specific skill.

Hard skills

- General intelligence: Assesses general reasoning and problem solving using pattern recognition. Stronger performance suggests the candidate can learn quickly, identify patterns, and handle unfamiliar tasks.
- Mathematics proficiency: Assesses practical numeracy used in work tasks, including calculations, interpreting numbers, and basic quantitative problem solving.
- Amharic proficiency: Assesses practical workplace communication in Amharic, including understanding and expressing information clearly in common job situations.
- English proficiency: Assesses practical workplace communication in English, including understanding information and communicating clearly in common work contexts.

Soft skills

- Conscientiousness: Assesses reliability and care in routine tasks. Stronger performance suggests more consistent follow-through and fewer avoidable mistakes.
- Emotional control: Assesses emotional stability under pressure. Stronger performance suggests the candidate can stay calm and productive when work becomes stressful.
- Grit / perseverance: Assesses persistence on difficult tasks. Stronger performance indicates the candidate is more likely to sustain effort and continue after setbacks.
- Perspective taking: Assesses ability to read others' perspectives and social cues. Stronger performance can support teamwork, customer interactions, and workplace communication.
- Executive function: Assesses attention control and accuracy under time pressure. Stronger performance suggests the candidate can stay focused, follow instructions carefully, and avoid mistakes when tasks are demanding.
- Self-efficacy: Assesses confidence in taking initiative and solving problems independently. Stronger performance suggests less need for close supervision.
- Growth mindset: Assesses openness to learning and improvement. Stronger performance suggests the candidate is more likely to use feedback and adapt after challenges.

Letter of recommendation

To: አሳዳ. (ሀ. 251) አይማኖት ወልደ

I have had the distinct pleasure of having his as student of Electrical and Computer Engineering in my class for the past five years until completion of his BSc program at Debre Markos Institute of Technology, Debre Markos University, Ethiopia. He has been more than the ideal student. In order to achieve the highest grades and my deepest respect, he has demonstrated outstanding practical and theoretical aspects and maintained a clear sense of purpose.

The academics at Debre Markos University is most challenging, and he fulfilled all the requirements with the added challenge of honors and advanced courses. Always, in his work, he is consistent, dedicated and passionate, enthusiastic, cheerful and a pleasure to work with. He has incredible creative energies and a refreshing idealism tempered only enough to accomplish needs to be done.

He quickly learned to manage his persistence and intellectual integrity. He was the most valuable member of my student laboratory team in achieving practical investigations, and a role model for his newer classmates.

Therefore, I am confident to recommend him for any position commensurate with his qualification or further studies in his area of interest. I hope he will remain asset for your organization and contribute his best in your endeavors of attaining institutional goals, and serve the country in his area of competence.
